ALUMNI START PLANS FOR ENDOWMENT DRIVE

Pamphlets Containing Information Published—Student Council and Other Organizations Help.

In connection with the coming nation-wide endowment campaign, the Alumni Association of George Washington is publishing a number of handbooks and pamphlets containing information about the University and its history, for the use of prospective subscribers. The first of these has just been completed, and is ready for use when needed.

This little book of about 20 pages contains more real information about the University history and prospects than any other similar publication on the campus. Lists of prominent graduates, names of the friends of the University from the time of George Washington down, and general information about the campaign itself, are only a few of the features of the handbook.

Following up this beginning, the first real development in the plans of the Alumni Association will take place this week. The whole country is to be divided into sections, each under the general supervision of a member of the Association. These divisional superintendents will meet on Tuesday of this week for a more detailed discussion of the plans and the methods to be adopted in carrying them out.

Whole-hearted support has been accorded the endowment workers by student organizations and by the Columbian Women. Edward L. Scheufler and Henry James are representing the Student Council and are to give active support, while the Columbian Women have already started their part of the campaign by selling pencils bearing the University colors. They are expected to contribute over $500 to the fund.

The committee, which has charge of the campaign which will begin on January 18 and continue until February 22, consists of: Edward J. Henning, '87, chairman, Edwin C. Brandenburg, '91, Charles I. Corby, Harry Cassell Davis, '81, Joshua Evans, Jr., Elliott H. Goodwin, Samuel Herick, '02, Howard L. Hodgkins, '83, Archibald Hopkins, William Bruce King, '81, John B. Lerner, '79, William Mather Lewis, ex-officio, Abram Lisner, John Barton Payne, and Abram Simon, '07.

STUDENT PAPERS READ AT HISTORY CLUB

The History Club of George Washington University, organized the middle of last winter by Professor Swisher, is composed of members of the student body who are interested in the discussion of history.

It held a number of meetings last year and in reorganizing this year elected Edgar Graham, president, and Mr. Cline, secretary.

The club meets the third Tuesday in each month in Professor Swisher's recitation room at 8 o'clock. At each meeting a member is assigned a paper to prepare and read, after which the members discuss the different items of interest. At the November 15th meeting Mr. Lowry will read a paper on "Social Life of France During the Third Empire."

MORSE PRAISES HATCHET INAUGURATION EDITION

"The staff of the University Hatchet deserves much credit for issuing the special inauguration edition in the way it did," stated Bryan Morse, director of Student Activities. "This is probably the first time in this country that a University weekly carrying completed details, has been printed and distributed within two hours after the event occurred," continued the director.

Besides the staff, credit is due to Waldo W. Girdner, of the Free Lance Club, and Eugene S. Thomas, for their aid. Girdner was in charge of the articles on the organization.

PREPARES SCHEDULE

Beatrice Woodford, manager of girls' tennis, is repairing the spring schedule. The tennis team will probably have ten matches. The fall tennis tournament was a great success, forty girls competing.

SMOKER DATE CHANGED

The Interfraternity Smoker will be held at the Sigma Phi Epsilon House, 1810 Connecticut Avenue, on Tuesday, November 27th, instead of Wednesday, November 28th, as appeared in the last issue of the Hatchet.

PORTRAIT OF WILBUR WILL BE PRESENTED

Ceremony Will Take Place Saturday—Photographs Are Now on Sale

The formal presentation and unveiling of Dean Wilbur's portrait will occur Saturday, November 17, with a reception and tea in the Chapel, from 4 to 6 p. m. Members of the faculty, students and friends are cordially invited.

Miss Elizabeth Peet, former president of Columbian Women, will make the presentation, and the acceptance will be by President Lewis. Following this, a short musical program under the direction of Miss Mabel Duncan, cellist, will be given at 5 o'clock. Tea will be served by a student committee under Miss Ruby Nevins, chairman.

Extra large photographs of the portrait are being made, suitable for framing, and priced at $5. One of these will be presented free to each organization assisting in raising the fund, but it is desired that all gifts shall be unsolicited. The regular size photographs at $1 and $2 may be obtained in the office of Miss Watkins, or at the theme room, and they will also be on sale during the reception and tea.

SOPHS PLAN LARGE DANCE TO BE STAGED AT CAIRO

Sophomores are making snappy plans for their second dance-mixer to be held November 23, at the Cairo. The "Society Sorenaders," a seven piece orchestra, consisting of two pianos, two saxophones, two violins, and banjo are to furnish the music for the occasion.

"To keep up the pep of the class, which has been manifested since the first of the year, makes it the duty of each soph to attend this, so far biggest dance of the year," says "Dutch" Clements, president of the sophomore class. "The success of our planned hop will depend largely upon that of our mixer, as the officers of the class hope to be able to make enough money from this party to be able to throw an open-house hop later in the season."

Tickets, limited to one hundred couples, may be procured for $1.65 from members of the dance committee, consisting of Edward Nichols, chairman, Jack Hayes, Hellen Hanford, Frances Davis, Mary Louise Semon, and Wickliff Woodard.

ACACIA FRAT CELEBRATES HALLOWE'EN WITH PARTY

Hallowe'en was celebrated by the Acacia Fraternity by a dance at the chapter house, 1719 Eye Street N. W., on October 31. Costumes represented almost every corner of the globe, including a Shiek and Shiekess from faroff Arabia. Professor Updegraff, of the Law School faculty, won the prize for the most unique costume and make-up.

Among the guests present were Justice and Mrs. R. H. Lovett, Marcus McMasters, of Cornell University, and Robert Lovett, of Harvard. About 50 couples were present.

PHI CHI HOLD MEETING

The Phi Chi Medical Fraternity held their first meeting of the year on Sunday November 4, at the Sigma Phi Epsilon House, 1810 Connecticut Avenue N. W. They plan to hold regular meetings at the same house throughout the year on alternate Sundays at 11 a. m.

SIMMONS RETURNS

Ed Simmons, who ran the half in 159 two years ago in his first attempt at the track game, has returned to college. Simmons was out last year and will be a valuable man for the team. He has been clocked in .51 for the quarter.

NOTABLE ASSEMBLAGE ATTENDS CEREMONIES

Before an impressive gathering of college presidents, deans, educators, and public officials, William Mather Lewis was inaugurated November 7, in Continental Memorial Hall, as president of George Washington University. He dedicated himself to the building up of the University "with national character and influence; a University taking full advantage of the great resources of the Federal City for inspiration and for research; a University sending into every corner of the land an increasing company of men and women with physical stamina, intellectual strength, and spiritual power; a University true to the name of George Washington, and pledged to the upbuilding of our America."

As the new president, in his inaugural address, discussed in a concise and clear manner the problems which confront educational institutions generally and George Washington University in particular, one of the most notable academic assemblages ever gathered in the National Capital listened with rapt attention. The stately and beautiful auditorium was a fit setting for the scores of educators who, in cap and gown, witnessed the ceremonies.

Every large university and college in America was represented. Cabinet officers, and members of the judiciary attended. From foreign countries, came the representatives of royalty and democracy to pledge their faith in the importance of the work to which William Mather Lewis has dedicated his efforts.

Greetings to the new leader of a great institution were brought from colleges and schools by their own leaders, from the faculties of the colleges in George Washington University by the deans, and from the Federal Government by its director of education.

ANNOUNCES ELECTIONS

Sphinx Honor Society announces the initiation of Dorothy Haddox and Mary Brown at a recent meeting. The requirements for membership include an average of over ninety per cent in all branches, as well as unusual interest in activities.

Dorothy Haddox has been a member of the Hatchet staff for three years; a member of the Cherry Tree staff last year, is a member of the Glee Club, and the Woman's University Club.

Mary Agnes Brown was secretary of the Freshman Class in Columbian College, 1919-20, secretary of the Spanish Club, 1921, secretary of the Junior Class, 1921-22, Hatchet staff, 1920-23, Prom Committee, 1921-23, Women's University Club, and president of Gamma Eta Zeta, women's journalistic sorority, 1919-23.

Hour Glass, women's honor society, announces the initiation of Elizabeth Chickering. The requirements for Hour Glass include forty-five hours of work taken at the University with an average of 85 per cent and an unusual interest in student activities.

Elizabeth Chickering is secretary of the Freshman Class in the Medical School, has been elected captain of the girls' basketball team, and was tennis champion last year.

TO DISCUSS COAL STRIKE

"Alleviation of the farmer's economic distress is dependent upon his own initiative," was the gist of Earl Wallace's constructive speech on the negative of "Resolved, that the economic situation of the farmer demands immediate governmental action." The negative was awarded a unanimous verdict, and Earl Wallace was elected to first honors, while S. A. Clark, of the affirmative, won second distinction. This was the third weekly discussion of the Columbian Debating Society, held at 8 p. m., November 9, in the alumni room of the Law School.

The discussion scheduled for Friday, November 16, is "Resolved, that Governor Pinchot's settlement of the coal problem is not conducive to permanent settlement."

Four new members were voted into the organization.

NOTICE!

Officials of the University Law School have sanctioned the suggestion that news of the Law School, intended for publication in The Hatchet, may be left in the school office.

Hereafter anyone in the Law School desiring matter published in this paper, will leave such items with Miss Bischoff.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL HOP WILL BE DEC. 15

Meyer Davis' Orchestra to Play—Will be Held at Raucher's—Tickets, $3.50.

Meyer Davis' Orchestra will furnish music for the famous football "hop" to be held Friday, December 15, at Raucher's, Connecticut Avenue and L Street, N. W. The sweaters and the "G. W." letters will be awarded to the players on the football team at this function.

Richard K. McPherson, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Student Council, is in charge of plans for the affair, and indications are that a very successful evening will be had. It will probably be attended by many faculty members.

It was at first thought that the price of tickets would be five dollars, but the Student Council, feeling the necessity of a return to normalcy, decided to limit the price to the very attractive sum of $3.50.

The football hop is one of the most famous functions of the University year—and the best of it is that it is just a plain "hop"—no speeches or anything like that—and you can dance to your heart's content.

ANNOUNCE PICTURE TAKING ARRANGEMENT FOR ANNUAL

Cost of Sitting $2 Up to January 5th; Management Urges Photographs Be Taken at Once

The Cherry Tree management has closed its contract with the Edmonston Studio, 610 Thirteenth St., N. W., (right off F Street) for the taking of the group and individual photographs for the 1924 Cherry Tree.

Students who are seniors or who are members of fraternities or organizations, are urged to have their sittings made at the earliest possible date. The cost of taking the pictures and publishing them in the Cherry Tree will be two dollars ($2.00). Sittings may be had up to and including January 5th at this rate, after which time the fee will be $2.50. However, no sittings will be given by Edmonston Studio during Christmas rush, which comes between December 3rd and 25th, inclusive, unless assurance is had that a half dozen or more pictures will be purchased by the student.

RICKEY MARTIN IS NEW HEAD OF MEDICS SOPHS

Medic sophomore elections, which were held at the opening meeting recently, were hotly contested for president and vice president, but the other officers were unanimously elected. The results are as follows: Rickey Martin, president; Benjamin V. Dinerman, vice president; Aletha Anderson, secretary; William Meiman, treasurer; and Nathan Davis, sergeant at arms.

Both classes are planning to hold mixers soon in Lisner Hall, and chances are good for their success.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL TO HOLD MEETING NOV. 15

El Circulo Espanol, the Spanish Club of George Washington University, will hold its next meeting Thursday, November 15, at 8 p. m., in the lecture hall of building five, first floor rear. Officers will be elected. All students of Spanish are urged to attend.

GIRLS' FENCING TEAM TO MEET
All girls interested in fencing will meet in the Chapel of Lisner Hall at 7.15 Wednesday, November 14. Candidates for manager and assistant manager will be considered at this meeting.

STUNTS AND DANCES AT OLD TIME CIRCUS

Country Fair will be held for the second time by the Y. W. C. A. and all the charms and tricks of the old-fashioned fair will be combined with newer circus stunts to make next Friday evening, November 23, one of the merriest on the G. W. social calendar.

Held for the first time last year in Lisner Hall, the County Fair was one of the best attended affairs of the season, and gained so much popularity that the Y. W. girls, with the cooperation of the other organizations, are planning to put it across as one of the big social successes of the year.

Dark-eyed gypsies will be there again to read palms, and stunts and dances and other vaudeville features will be presented to the assembled "fair" lovers.

Every room in building 4 will present a real feature, in one a swimming meet, in another a dog show, and in still others will be presented shooting matches, snake charmers, and acrobatic stunts.

Admission to the hall will be ten cents, this price including all vaudeville stunts. Once in the hall the girls will be prepared to keep the crowd happy, and booths will furnish the cakes, ice cream, and other refreshments.

G. W. PLAYERS PRESENT HOPKINS' "MOONSHINE"

The G. W. Players Tuesday, November 6, in the Chapel, Lisner Hall, presented the first monthly program play, "Moonshine," by Arthur Hopkins. This presentation is of significance since it inaugurates the new policy of the Players—that of presenting a one-act play each month.

William Northup Morse, playwright instructor, spoke to the Players. There will be tryouts for all those who wish to act in future productions.

Membership in the Players is unrestricted, but only those interested in the work of the theater are asked to join. The group system has been adopted as the working plan, and each member may be now actively employed in the production of at least one of the many plays to be given during the year. Every department of stage art will be recognized and dealt with—lighting, scenic design, costume, tableau, as well as acting.

The first production of the year will be given in December and will consist of the Phi Mu prize play, "Loving George," by Northup Morse, and one other one-act play, which, it is hoped may be written by a George Washington student.

AID ENDOWMENT DRIVE PLEDGED BY PYRAMID

At the Roll Call on October 11, the organization distributed student activity pledges to the assembled gathering and collected for the University about 200 signed cards. Their efforts in behalf of the endowment fund are expected to contribute in no small degree to the success of the drive for Greater George Washington.

The Pyramid Society is a senior organization, limited to ten new members annually, and only those who have made excellent grades and who have distinguished themselves as leaders in student affairs, are eligible.

Members now attending school are: W. M. Ballinger, F. W. Brown, Bartley Corbin, J. Foster Hagen, W. P. Haynes, Daniel B. Lloyd, R. H. McNeil, V. J. Ptak, H. W. Shaw, Walter Stokes, and Hilory Tolson.

FROSH ORCHESTRA WILL GIVE HOP NOVEMBER 17

The Freshman Orchestra will hold a benefit dance at Lisner Hall, Saturday, November 17. These dances will probably be held bi-monthly during the year. Admission, 50 cents. Come and bring your girl. These boys are good.

"DO YOUR BIT"

With the formal inauguration of President Lewis, November 7, the endowment drive was virtually initiated. The funds necessary must be procured, in the main, from the generosity and good judgment of Washington citizens. The means will doubtless be left to competent committees whose program probably already has been drawn up. But we must not forget that we, as individuals, can play a supreme part in the success of the drive.

Four thousand, three hundred students, working collectively, constitute an agency whose power as arousing public sentiment will be effective. School organizations, sororities, fraternities, and clubs of every nature could further their interest in no better way than by furthering those of their school.

Should they be so situated that they can reach and convince the minds of the wealthy, so much the better. In addition, they could well draw up special campaigns themselves in advertising and in convincing. Should every individual student feel the responsibility actively to further the endowment drive, through his friends or at his work or by means of any agency within reach, its success would already be assured.

A thing can not take form and grow alone through the efforts of those interested in it, but it can reach any proportion through its own will. That applies to the student body here. If it is not heartily and actively behind the endowment drive, the latter can not succeed.

But if it is, the success in the creation of a George Washington University of which the Capital may be more than proud as its educational representative will be assured.

LAST WEEK

William Mather Lewis was formally inaugurated president of George Washington University. That means progress for our school, and with it will come complete success of the endowment drive, new buildings, and a gymnasium.

The endowment drive was virtually started. Individuals and organizations take notice. Our organization has already pledged $100 as a starter, and many individual contributions exceed that amount.

Dean Wilbur received a letter, which read: "I enjoyed your course in rhetoric more than any I ever took. Enclosed is a $500 check for the endowment fund that I wish to be presented through you." Men on college faculties who make life-listing impressions on their students cause the hearts of alumni to open when endowment is needed.

A portrait of Dean Howard Lincoln Hodgkins was presented to the University. Little can be printed about it, you must see for yourself the splendid character that is shown by his deep-set eyes, and must feel the influence of his commanding personality to really appreciate the work. Go to Lisner Hall, where it hangs, and see the likeness of a man who has given the years of his life to the school he loves.

Student activity tax signers have passed the eleven hundred mark. The total for the entire last year was only fourteen over a thousand. That shows real work. With such workers as Bee Woodford, a girl who alone secured well over a hundred signatures, the tax collectors will soon reach their goal of fifteen hundred. They may reach two thousand, who knows?

Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities, praises the "Hatchet" Staff for its splendid work in producing the special inauguration issue. He knows that encouragement will help lighten the load of the "weekly grind."

Basket ball is brought to mind by the announcement of the team's schedule. Notice that half the games are to be played at home. Ample opportunity for loyal support, you say. Remember that when the season starts.

Van Ende, South Atlantic intercollegiate tennis champion, is returning to school. That will help George Washington's tennis season next spring.

Hymns, responsive readings, and prayer were had at Chapel Friday. There were also patriotic songs. Lewis is a true Christian, and education, patriotism, and religion go together in "God's Country."

Patronize the school's football hop to be held Friday, December 15. Enjoy yourself with the men who have worked so hard for old "G. W." in an effort to gain for us athletic supremacy. Tickets will soon be on sale.

THE "CHAUVÉ SOURIS"

An Evening of Delight.

(Review by W. Northrop Morse.)
A round face, a bald head, except dark wings of hair at the sides, between gray stage curtains. Solemnity, mystery. A Russian stepped before the curtains. He clasped his fat hands. In a circular pool of light the strange-looking person stood. Silently he gazed straight ahead into the orchestra, then to right and left, then into the gallery. The round face in the pool of light opened.

"I am Balieff the director and stage-auto-crat of the Chauve Souris. My manager is Morris Gest, but he speaks such bad Engleesh that I am speaking bad Engleesh for heem. My gyst teacher of Eng-lish was an Italian. . . . I want you to feel like the guests, and if you like it, show it to me by hearty ap-plause."

The gulf between audience and the world back of the footlights was gone. Nikita Balieff Sunday night at Poli's threw a bridge of delightful intimacy across this gulf, joining the two worlds. For a full evening he kept the audience delighted with a singularly fine and smooth production of his famous "super-vaudeville."

The bill he gives us this week in Washington is a selection of the best from his four productions in almost a year and a half in New York. From the original production he gave us—"Porcelaine de Meissen," a sweet and fragile thing like its name, done in pale yellow and rose, with airy music by Alexei Archangelsky; "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," which had to be given again as an encore, owing to the continued applause; "Songs of Sentiment," old-fashioned loveliness, flooded in a strange silver light; Tchekhoff's riotous farce, "The Sudden Death of a Cab Horse," "La Grande Opera Italiana," with quaint costumes and "surroundings" by Soudeikine; "Katinka"—based on the wooden toy boxes of the Russian peasants—as light and delight as the happiest hours of childhood; "The Night Idyl," which we won't tell about since we do not want to take away the fun of seeing it for those who haven't seen it yet; and the supremely fine number of the evening, "A Night at Yard's, Moscow, 1840," which had a perfect blending of the finest costume designing seen here this season in any play, and singing of such beauty that will haunt one for many a day.

For sheer joy "La Tabatiere Musicale," came first of all. That represents some most delightful figures who—but we won't spoil the pleasure you must see it for yourself!

REPORTS OF ACTIVITIES TO BE MADE TO COUNCIL

Election of Assistant Managers Also to Be Taken up, November 20. To Name Cheerleaders.

Agitation over the distinction that should be made between major and minor sports was rife at the meeting of the Student Council, Tuesday, November 6. The whole discussion came up over the petition of Walter R. Stokes, coach of the rifle team, to have the girl's team awarded major letters, because of its excellent record made last year.

The awarding of major instead of minor letters to the rifle girls was defeated. The question of making it a major sport was referred to the athletic committee.

Election of managers of the rifle team and assistant managers for the basketball, track, and tennis squads will be held Tuesday, November 20. Cheer leaders for the Thanksgiving Day game will be named at the same meeting. Applications for these positions should be made to C. Melville Walker, chairman of the athletic committee.

Reports of the University Hatchet, the Cherry Tree, and the football team are to make the next session, according to Ralph Wallace, president of the council.

SIG EPS PUT ON PARTY

On the evening of October 31, the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity put on a party at the chapter house at 1810 Connecticut Avenue N. W. The decorative scheme consisted of a canopy of alternate orange and black streamers, an arched stairway, and a "cozy corner."

A feature of the evening were spotlight dances, a favor dance, and showers of confetti. In the back room an old-time bar held full sway, and glaring Follies posters adorned the walls. Miss Elsie Garber won the prize for the best lady's costume, while "Swig"

Sweeney carried off the honors for the men by appear as a gladiator embellished by a whisk broom, a jazz bow, and an ancient straw hat.

VAN ENDE MAY PLAY TENNIS WITH G. W. U.

Other Good Men Eligible—Tournaments of Men and Women
Being Played Off

Tennis promises to have a successful year in G. W. U. Joseph Van Ende, university champion and Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate champ, will return the second semester to the school; Eddie Beale, formerly of Lehigh, is in the Law School, and may be eligible to play; John Ladd, captain in 1922, is a graduate student in the University; Albert Law, of last year's team; Ralph Aten and Klopsch are also back this year, and probably eligible.

The University tennis courts and club house at Twenty-fifth and N Streets N. W., will probably be available to the University for another four years.

In the girls' tennis tournament, Daisy Robison, who won from Hazel Davis (6-0, 6-3); Frances Walker, who won from Virginia Rossaville; and Beatrice Woodford, who won from Elsie Talbert, will go to the semifinals. The other place in the semifinals lies between Virginia Newby and Louise Whelchel.

In the men's tournament, Ralph Aten has won from W. S. Detwiler, Arthur Kimberly from Allen H. Gardner, John Ladd from M. G. Acontilado, Robert Carter from Robinson, W. B. Glover from M. E. Caskey, and Stanley Crosthwaite from Joseph Kaufman. In the second half of the tournament, Murray W. Gould, who won from Pitts, and James H. Simmonds, who won from J. A. Marshall, played Gould, winning 6-3, 6-1. This puts him in the semifinals. Stanley B. Haynes, winning from J. F. O'Connor (6-3, 6-0), and Joseph Rutley, winning from T. F. Lawrence (6-2, 6-3), also go to the semifinals.

MEET DELAWARE

University of Delaware grid-iron warriors will be met by the Quigleyites at Newark, Del., Saturday, November 17. A well matched, hard fought battle is looked for, as both teams are about of equal ability.

HATCHETITS BEATEN, 13-7

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 3.—The George Washington University eleven journeyed here to-day and was beaten by St. Joseph's College, 13 to 7. The locals battered their way through the Washingtonians line for big gains, but a stubborn defense, when their goal was threatened, helped the Washington warriors to turn back the locals' thrusts every time but twice.

In the last period the visiting eleven came back and worked the ball down on end runs to St. Joe's 20-yard line. A nicely placed forward pass, Henderson to Ptak, placed the pigskin on the 1-yard line. The ball was given to Lamar, who plunged through the line for a touchdown. Pryor kicked the goal.

CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY GAME IS ARRANGED

The game will be played in the afternoon of November 29 in the Central High School Stadium, Thirteenth and Clifton Streets N. W., at 2 p. m. There is no other college contest scheduled here for the day, and the natural rivalry between the elevens is expected to draw the biggest crowd of the season.

George Washington defeated Catholic University by 14 to 6 last year, and expects to repeat the victory again this year. The team has a real test to-day at Salem, when it meets Roanoke College, which defeated Catholic University by 14 to 0 last week.

The Roanoke College game was originally scheduled for Saturday, but upon request of the Roanoke authorities was changed to November 12. Semifinals of the girls' tennis tournament were completed on Friday, November 9, when Louise Whelchel defeated Daisy Robison. Francis Walker defeated Beatrice Woodford earlier in the week, so Francis Walker and Louise Whelchel are victorious.

The finals will be played off on Wednesday, and everyone is anxiously wondering which one of these two girls, who are so equally matched, will win the much-cherished cup.

PLAY TENNIS FINALS

The Bums' Club will meet Saturday night, November 17, at Chauve Souris. There will be a meeting of the club on Sunday afternoon, November 17, at 1831 Belmont Road, Apartment 16.

Twenty Report for Hockey

Over twenty girls reported at the first meeting of the hockey squad. Arrangements for the new sport are rapidly being made.

BASKETBALL GIRLS MEET

There will be a meeting of all girls interested in basketball in the Chapel of Lisner Hall, November 19, at 8 p. m.

Gallaudet and Maryland planned.
Most Veterans to be Back

George Washington University basketball fans are looking for a very successful season this year. With an excellent schedule which is announced by Manager Lester Johnson and under the leadership of Captain Gude Gosnell, the Hatchette quint should make a name for itself.

Last year the Buff and Blue five started like a house after bowling over the strong Quantico Marines, the American Legion, Gallaudet and Blue Ridge College in a row, but were not quite so successful thereafter. Sickness, ineligibility and a gruelling trip told on the locals.

From last year's quint, besides Gosnell, who has made himself universally feared as a forward, the Coach will have such material as "Zeke" Klopsch, forward, Francis Brown, center, and "Babe" Hyde, guard as last year's letter men; and from the squad Joe Rutley, Vernon Brown, and Beeton, forwards; Taylor and Randolph, centers; Joynes, guard.

The first scheduled game of the season is on January 2, against the Marines, who hope to avenge last year's defeat. A game with Columbia University is pending for December 28, and if it is arranged should furnish a first class exhibition, as Joe Deering is noted for the caliber of his court products.

Of course the locals meet Georgetown, Gallaudet and Catholic University. Maryland University, putting a team on the floor for the first time, is also on the schedule. The season is scheduled to end against Catholic University on G. W.'s home court, Feb. 20. A few changes may be made in the schedule, but tentatively it is as follows:

Dec. 28—Columbia University.
Jan. 2—Quantico Marines (at home)
Jan. 5—City Club (at home).
Jan. 8—American Legion (at home)
Jan. 12—U. of Md. (College Park)
Jan. 16—Catholic Univ. (Brookland)
Jan. 19—Georgetown (Georgetown)
Jan. 30—St. Francis, (at home)
Feb. 2—Gallaudet, (at home)
Feb. 8—Georgetown.
Feb. 12—Richmond Light Inf. Blues
Feb. 16—Univ. of Md. (at home)
Feb. 19—Delaware (at Newark)
Feb. 20—Catholic Univ. (at home)

BATTERY "D" CANDIDATES MEET WEDNESDAY EVENING

Committee on Organization Appointed—Coast Artillery Units
Will Continue in Old Functions

Success is assured for the reorganization of Battery D, Coast Artillery. Having been duly authorized to reorganize this G. W. student unit of the National Guard, candidates assembled for the first meeting at Lisner Hall, Thursday evening, November 8. Major Walter W. Burns there outlined the plans and purposes of the movement and appointed the following men for the Committee on Organization: Robert W. Bolton, Louis W. Carter, Stanley A. Clark, Paul G. Johnson, F. W. Darnier, A. Henry Walter, and M. B. Lundgen.

The enthusiasm shown by those who turned out to the first meeting was very gratifying. Application blanks have been printed, and all wishing to join this corps should sign a blank procurable from any member of the committee. All G. W. students and graduates passing physical examination are eligible for membership. Wednesday, November 14, at 8 p. m., candidates will meet in Lisner Hall.

The new organization will continue on the work started by the original Battery D in 1915 and will be accredited with the war record of that corps. Mention of Battery D's activity in the World War was made by Dean Hodgkins in the student assembly of Friday, at which time Armistice Day talks were featured.

LAW FROSH TO HOLD MIXER NOVEMBER 17

President Earle Manson has announced that the Freshman Class of the Law School will have a mixer on Saturday night, November 17th, in the Chapel of Lisner Hall, 2023 G Street. This mixer will be one of the biggest events in the social calendar of the University so far this year. Plans are rapidly being completed and the committee is sure that no one will be sorry they put up the small sum of six bits for such an evening's entertainment.

In the first place, there will be plenty of opportunity for real enjoyment, because the music is going to be furnished by Meyer Davis' Orchestra. Then there will be some local entertainers who will demonstrate their abilities during the intermission. And last but not least, there will be plenty of good refreshments. The best part about it is that you can take advantage of all this for seventy-five cents.

Not only are all the members of the Law School invited, but an invitation has been cordially extended to the members of the rest of the University, and it is hoped that many of the Columbian College students will come, and "get acquainted." In fact, quite a large crowd is expected.

Invitations have been extended to the members of the faculty and it is expected many will be present.

The Social Committee now working on the plans consists of Tom Mount, chairman, Cherry, Cochran, G. O. Hyde, Sterry, Waterman, F. W. Brown, and Mildred Thrasher.

PHI DELTA GIVES DANCE IN HONOR OF NEOPHYTES

The Phi Delta Epsilon Medical fraternity began its social season by holding a formal opening dance in honor of the neophytes last Saturday evening, November 3, 1923, at the chapter house, 1627 Massachusetts Avenue N. W. Dr. E. A. Caffritz, of Washington, was the guest of honor of the evening.

LEWIS IS MAIN SPEAKER AT ARMISTICE DAY CHAPEL

Says "Boys Did Not Die in Vain"—
Dean Hodgkins Also Speaks.

"The nine million boys did not die in vain," said President Lewis at the Armistice Day chapel, held November 9. "The war was merely God's way of making the world better." Dean Howard L. Hodgkins also gave praise to the service of George Washington students and alumni during the World War.

Chapel was opened by a hymn, responsive readings, and a prayer by President Lewis. After the speeches, patriotic songs were sung, and pictures of Generals Pershing, Foch, and Haig were flashed on the screen.
